CN: A Story of Innovation

The ten years since CN's privatization have been an amazing ride for a company that has gone from worst to first in the North American rail industry. It is a story of a powerful vision of what it takes to run a great railroad.

Sean Finn joined CN in 1994 and was appointed Senior Vice-President Public Affairs, Chief Legal Officer, and Corporate Secretary in February of 2003. He is responsible for CN's public affairs, government affairs, law and risk management functions.
